

HSEQ policy

Risa shall deliver the Real Deal.

The Real Deal is first and foremost meant to raise awareness, and is a process that never ends.

Quality is the key word, if we are going to succeed.

We shall always strive to learn and do better – it is not embarrassing to be the best.

Quality shall be apparent in:

- The work we do
- The result we achieve
- The equipment we use
- The way we behave
- By delivering what we promise – and do the work correctly the first time around

"The things we do shall withstand public scrutiny" – the Real Deal

Risa shall deliver according to relevant standards. To follow rules and regulations is the Real Deal. Risa is committed to fulfilling customer requirements, and the demands we put on ourselves when it comes to HSE, the environment, energy and quality assurance (HSEQ).

HSEQ is part of the daily operation, planning and execution at Risa. Risa shall prevent, and better our environmental impact. In addition, influence our customers and suppliers through our environmental commitment.

The energy solutions at Risa shall be desirable to our customers by being environmentally friendly, and contribute to an efficient energy utilization, while complying with current and future governmental regulations.

Our HSEQ system has established processes and information routines for monitoring our energy consumption on site, in our machines and equipment.

Risa will lead the efforts to improving and optimizing energy consumption.

Risa is committed to continuously improve our HSEQ system, and manage risk to prevent unwanted consequences.

The Real Deal is "never to start before we are sure we will operate in the green risk-zone". And "What we know, we share. We tell if we think something is not right".

If you work at Risa you are the Real Deal.
